$13,000 FIRE AT CROMWELL, MIDDLETOWN SENDS HELP

Fire Hydrants Had Been Capped and Locked by Water Company.

Cromwell, Conn., Dec. 9.—Fire which for a time threatened to destroy a greater part of the business section of the town, today was gotten under control by assistance from the Middletown fire department, after gutting the store of Kirkpatrick & Blake. The loss on the building, which was owned by W. L. McDonald, is estimated at $5,000, and the loss to the occupants $8,000.

The fire started in a storehouse in the rear of the store and was presumably set by a spark from a locomotive, the railroad tracks being in the rear of the building. The fire had been burning for some time when discovered, for when the rear door of the store was opened the flames rushed in. With such fuel as the occupants had just time to place the books in the safe and make their escape by the front doors. The alarm of fire brought the local fire fighting apparatus to the scene, but it could not work with much success, due to the fact that the fire hydrants had been capped and locked by the Cromwell Water company on a refusal by the town to pay for their maintenance. Help was asked for from Middletown, and on the arrival of a company from that town the Middletown firemen broke the caps from the hydrants and in a short time had the fire under control. The post-office building stood within four feet of the store, and when the building seemed to be under control, the firemen destroyed the contents were removed, but streams of water prevented it catching. Roofs of other buildings in the near vicinity caught fire, but were soon put out.

THE POPULATION OF TACOMA, WHAT REVISED FIGURES SHOW

Charge That Returns Had Been Padded Fully Substantiated.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The population of Tacoma, Wash., is $3,743, according to revised figures issued by the census bureau today. This is an increase of 46,029, or 122 per cent. over 37,714 in 1900. The first announcement of Tacoma's population in the thirteenth census credited the city with 32,972 inhabitants, or 771 less than today's revised figures.

The population of Ogden, Utah, is 25,358, according to statistics of the thirteenth census issued today. This is an increase of 9,257 or 58.8 per cent. over 16,101 in 1900.

Director Durand issued with the Tacoma figures a statement claiming that his original charge that the figures had been padded to the extent of more than 35,000 names had been substantiated by the recount.

As originally returned, there was shown to be a population of 113,276. A part of the city was re-checked, with the result that a population of 32,972 was developed. The people of Tacoma being dissatisfied with these figures, Chief Statistician Hunt of the census bureau was sent to Tacoma to make a complete recount. Director Durand claims that the result is a complete vindication of position.

"It shows conclusively," says Mr. Durand, "that the census of 1900 was substantially correct and that the original returns were padded to the extent approximately of 32,000."

THE BEST TIME TO ADVERTISE

An advertiser of experience would say if asked, "When is the best time to advertise?" All the time; and the man who advertises all of the time keeps on the crest of the business wave and is never in the hollow of the sea of traffic. There are men in business, however, who, when business is satisfactory do not see the need of what they deem a useless expense; and when it is dull they think they cannot afford to advertise. Now, for a fact, no man can afford to tolerate dull business. The man who reasons that when trade is dull is no time to advertise, might logically conclude that when a man is sick there is no use of taking a tonic. Whatever is sluggish needs stimulating, and this is as true of business as of the human body. The man who sits down when he needs exercise will soon be all in, and the merchant who doesn't recognize that dull trade needs stimulating will go to the wall. To get a share of trade in these days every live man must bid for it. The Bulletin's advertising columns are open and its rates inviting.

over the aggregate population contained by the same states in 1900. This was not included in the computation for 1900. If they maintain the growth of the other states their aggregate will be brought up to 5,135,274, giving a grand total for the United States of 51,549,592. Even if there should be no gain at all, the total would be 50,999,660. Washington is expected to show an increase of almost 100 per cent, and Georgia is counted on to gain 50 per cent. But, while Wisconsin probably will score a gain, it is not believed that it will reach 20 per cent.
